

Let's Tackle the Grease in This Kitchen

Free TCEQ video and poster

Educate residential and multi-family customers with this free video and poster available from the Texas Commission on Environmental Quality (TCEQ).

About the video

Funded by an Environmental Protection Agency grant, the TCEQ and City of Fort Worth (Community Cable Television and Water Departments) produced the video and public service announcements. Water Department employees play the roles: a utility worker educates a husband and wife on the impact of FOG on the sewer system and septic tanks and tells them how they can reduce the amount that goes down the drain.

Format: VHS

Contents (approximate times): 4 segments

- English: play-10 minutes, PSA-30 seconds
- Spanish: play-12 minutes, PSA-30 seconds

About the poster

The TCEQ also developed Let's Tackle the Grease in this Kitchen (GI-290), an 11" x 14.25" bilingual color poster. One side is in English; the other side in Spanish. Order posters, or camera-ready copy, by calling 512/239-0028. You can view and download a copy in PDF format at www.tceq.org (click on "Forms and Publications" to find the online catalog, then search for Publication Number GI-290.)

How to use the materials

To reduce sewer overflows and keep fats, oil, and grease (FOG) out of sewer systems, offer them to various local civic organizations, associations, schools, and churches; distribute them to food service establishments connected to the sewer system; show them at staff meetings and to other departments within your organization; and use them in your own public education efforts. Offer them to groups like:

- Rotary, Lions, Kiwanis groups
- Boy and Girl Scouts
- Apartment complexes and homeowners' associations
- neighborhood watch groups
- K-12 grade classes
- news media
- any local public event

The poster could also be provided to food service establishments connected to the sewer to help educate their employees about FOG and how to minimize discharges.
