TEXAS COMMISSION ON ENVIRONMENTAL QUALITY

Protecting Texas by Reducing and Preventing Pollution

June 9, 2004

TO: Persons on the attached mailing list.

RE: Southern Crushed Concrete, Inc.
Permit No. 70136L001

Decision of the Executive Director.

The executive director has made a decision that the above-referenced permit application meets the requirements of applicable law. This decision does not authorize construction or operation of any proposed facilities. This decision will be considered by the commissioners at a regularly scheduled public meeting before any action is taken on this application unless all requests for contested case hearing or reconsideration have been withdrawn before that meeting.

Enclosed with this letter is a copy of the Executive Director's Response to Comments. A copy of the complete application, draft permit and related documents, including public comments, is available for review at the TCEQ Central office. A copy of the complete application, the draft permit, and executive director's preliminary decision are available for viewing and copying at the TCEQ Central Office in Austin, The TCEQ Houston Regional Office, and the City of Houston Public Library, 500 McKinney Street, Houston, Harris County, Texas.

If you disagree with the executive director's decision, and you believe you are an "affected person" as defined below, you may request a contested case hearing. In addition, anyone may request reconsideration of the executive director's decision. A brief description of the procedures for these two requests follows.

How To Request a Contested Case Hearing.

It is important that your request include all the information that supports your right to a contested case hearing. You must demonstrate that you meet the applicable legal requirements to have your hearing request granted. The commission's consideration of your request will be based on the information you provide.

The request must include the following:

(1) Your name, address, daytime telephone number, and, if possible, a fax number.

(2) If the request is made by a group or association, the request must identify:
   (A) one person by name, address, daytime telephone number, and, if possible, the fax number, of the person who will be responsible for receiving all communications and documents for the group; and
   (B) one or more members of the group that would otherwise have standing to request a hearing in their own right. The interests the group seeks to protect must relate to the organization's purpose. Neither the claim asserted nor the relief requested must require the participation of the individual members in the case.

(3) The name of the applicant, the permit number and other numbers listed above so that your request may be processed properly.

(4) A statement clearly expressing that you are requesting a contested case hearing. For example, the following statement would be sufficient: "I request a contested case hearing."

Your request must demonstrate that you are an "affected person." An affected person is one who has a personal justiciable interest related to a legal right, duty, privilege, power, or economic interest affected by the application. Your request must describe how and why you would be adversely affected by the proposed facility or activity in a manner not common to the general public. For example, to the extent your request is based on these concerns, you should describe the likely impact on your health, safety, or uses of your property which may be adversely affected by the proposed facility or activities. To demonstrate that you have a personal justiciable interest, you must state, as specifically as you are able, your location and the distance between your location and the proposed facility or activities. A person who may be affected by emissions of air contaminants from the facility is entitled to request a contested case hearing.

Your request must raise disputed issues of fact that are relevant and material to the commission's decision on this application. The request must be based on issues that were raised during the comment period. The request cannot be based solely on issues raised in comments that have been withdrawn. The enclosed Response to Comments will allow you to determine the issues that were raised during the comment period and whether all comments raising an issue have been withdrawn. The public comments filed for this application are available for review and copying at the Chief Clerk's office at the address below.

To facilitate the commission's determination of the number and scope of issues to be referred to hearing, you should: 1) specify any of the executive director's responses to comments that you dispute; and 2) the factual basis of the dispute. In addition, you should list, to the extent possible, any disputed issues of law or policy.

How To Request Reconsideration of the Executive Director's Decision.

Unlike a request for a contested case hearing, anyone may request reconsideration of the executive director's decision. A request for reconsideration should contain your name, address, daytime phone number, and, if possible, your fax number. The request must state that you are requesting reconsideration of the executive director's decision, and must explain why you believe the decision should be reconsidered.

Deadline for Submitting Requests.

A request for a contested case hearing or reconsideration of the executive director's decision must be in writing and must be received by the Chief Clerk's office no later than 30 calendar days after the date of this letter: You should submit your request to the following address:

LaDonna Castañuela, Chief Clerk
TCEQ, MC-105
P.O. Box 13087
Austin, Texas 78711-3087

Processing of Requests.

Timely requests for a contested case hearing or for reconsideration of the executive director's decision will be referred to the alternative dispute resolution director and set on the agenda of one of the commission's regularly scheduled meetings. Additional instructions explaining these procedures will be sent to the attached mailing list when this meeting has been scheduled.

How to Obtain Additional Information.

If you have any questions or need additional information about the procedures described in this letter, please call the Office of Public Assistance, Toll Free, at 1-800-687-4040.

Sincerely,

LaDonna Castañuela
Chief Clerk

TEXAS COMMISSION ON ENVIRONMENTAL QUALITY

TCEQ PROPOSED PERMIT NO. 70136L001

2004 JAN -3 PM 3:41
CHIEF CLERKS OFFICE

APPLICATION BY	§	BEFORE THE
SOUTHERN CRUSHED CONCRETE, INC.	§	TEXAS COMMISSION ON
CONCRETE CRUSHING PLANT	§	ENVIRONMENTAL QUALITY
HOUSTON, HARRIS COUNTY	§

EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR'S RESPONSE TO PUBLIC COMMENTS

The Executive Director (ED) of the Texas Commission on Environmental Quality (TCEQ or the "Commission") files this response to public comments on the proposed standard permit and the ED's preliminary decision. As required by 30 TEXAS ADMINISTRATIVE CODE (TAC) § 55.156 (the "Rule"), before an application is approved, the ED prepares a response to all timely, relevant and material, or significant comments. The Office of Chief Clerk timely received comment letters from those persons included on the attached "Commenters List." Notwithstanding the limitation in the Rule to relevant and material, or significant comment, this Response addresses all timely public comments received, whether or not withdrawn.

Description of Facility

Southern Crushed Concrete, Inc. ("Southern Crushed") has applied to the TCEQ for a proposed change of location that would authorize the applicant to change the location of a portable concrete crushing facility currently located at 5001 Gasmer Street, Houston, Harris County. The facility is currently authorized under permit number 40072. The proposed new location of the facility is 2350 Bellfort Avenue, Houston, Harris County.

Procedural Background

The permit application was received on October 6, 2003, and was declared administratively complete on October 16, 2003. The first notice was authorized for publication on the same date. The applicant published first notice on October 23, 2003, in the Houston Press. Hearing requests, requests for a public meeting, and comment letters were received in response to this notice during the 30-day comment period ending on November 24, 2003. The application was declared technically complete on January 13, 2004, and the second notice was published on January 15, 2004, in the Houston Press. Additional hearing requests and comments were received during the 30-day second notice comment period, which ended February 17, 2004. On January 27, 2004, a public meeting was held in Houston at the Blueridge United Methodist Church, and additional comments were received.

Comments and Responses

Similar comments that could be addressed by one explanatory response have been grouped to minimize redundancy.

COMMENT 1: Southern Crushed did not properly notify the residents in the area because the Houston Press, the publication utilized for notice, is not delivered daily to the majority of residents in that area. Publication of notice in the Houston Press does not comply with TCEQ notice requirements because the Houston Press is not a newspaper of general circulation. (With the exception of those people listed in "Group 'A'" on the attached "Commenters List," this comment was made by all commenters.)

RESPONSE 1: Commission rule requires an applicant to publish notice in a newspaper of general circulation in the municipality where the facility is proposed to be located. The agency determines the appropriateness of newspapers used for public notice on a case-by-case basis. Case law on what is a newspaper of general circulation provides guiding factors such as: the percentages of general circulation and delivery; whether there are paid subscribers; whether the newspaper is dedicated to a private enterprise, church, or religious activity; and whether the newspaper contains news items of general interest, editorials, and advertisements. A newspaper which is not delivered daily, such as the Houston Press, can qualify as a newspaper of general circulation. Based on these factors and in our view, republication of notice is not required.

COMMENT 2: "TCEQ rules require notice of the permit application to be published in 'two successive issues' of a newspaper of general circulation in Houston. Id. 30 TEX. ADMIN. CODE §116.132(A)." (Susan Taylor, Acting City of Houston Attorney)

RESPONSE 2: Under 30 TAC § 39.601, air applications that are declared administratively complete before September 1, 1999, are subject to the requirements of Chapter 116, Subchapter B, Division 3, which would include 30 TAC § 116.132. Air applications that are declared administratively complete by the executive director on or after September 1, 1999, are subject to 30 TAC §§ 39.601-606. Southern Crushed's application was declared administratively complete on October 23, 2003, and the public notice requirements of 30 TAC Chapter 116 would therefore not apply. The applicable notice provisions do not require publication in "two successive issues" of the newspaper.

COMMENT 3: State law prohibits the operation of concrete crushing facilities within 440 yards of certain protected land uses. The measurements for determining whether this permit satisfies those requirements were made from the point on the site where the crushing machine is proposed to be located. Under the rules of the TCEQ, however, a stockpile is a "facility". The stockpiles are an essential part of the running of the crushing machine and thus part of the "operation" of the facility. The permit application therefore should show the location of the stockpiles on the site and the distance measurements should be taken from the stockpiles, as well as the crushing machine. (State Representative Al Edwards; Susan Taylor, Acting City of Houston Attorney)

RESPONSE 3: The Texas Clean Air Act (TCAA) § 382.003 states, "'Facility' means a discrete or identifiable structure, device, item, equipment, or enclosure that constitutes or contains a stationary source, including appurtenances other than emission control equipment. A mine, quarry, well test, or road is not considered to be a facility." A stockpile by itself is not considered to be a facility. Section 382.065 prohibits the operation of a concrete crushing facility within 440 yards of a building in use as a single or multifamily residence, school, or place of worship at the time the application for a permit to operate the facility at a site near the residence, school, or place of worship is filed with the commission. The nearest residence, school, or place of worship to the proposed crushing location is the Reed Parque Apartments at 2725 Reed Road. The City of Houston Bureau of Air Quality Control conducted a site review of the area on November 10, 2003, and concluded that the Reed Parque Apartments are approximately 3,000 feet (1,000 yards) away from the proposed location of the crusher. A certified land surveyor map submitted by Southern Crushed represents the Reed Parque Apartments at a distance of 3,049 feet (1,016 yards) from the proposed location of the crusher. A follow-up site investigation by TCEQ Region 12 on February 26, 2004, documented the Reed Parque Apartments at a distance of 1,081 yards from the existing stockpile. This demonstrates that even if a stockpile was considered a facility and therefore an appropriate point from which to measure, the existing stockpile at the Southern Crushed property still satisfies the 440-yard statutory distance requirement.

COMMENT 4: Several comments were received concerning human and animal health and damage to property. (State Representative Al Edwards, State Representative Ron Wilson, Councilmember Ada Edwards, Skipper Lee Frazier, Dr. Edith Clark, Bessie Swindle, Rev. Jimmy Jackson, Margaret Jenkins, Rev. Andrew C. Burks, Jr., Kenneth Montgomery, Thyra Burks, Dr. Alma Allen, London Wilson, Ruthie Hatton, Walter Hobdy, Irving Potts, and Susan Taylor, Acting City of Houston Attorney)

RESPONSE 4: The Texas Clean Air Act and TCEQ rules require an evaluation of air quality permit applications to determine whether adverse effects to public health, general welfare, or physical property are expected to result from a facility's proposed emissions. As part of the permit evaluation process, the permit reviewer identifies all sources of air contaminants at the proposed facility and assures that the facility will be using the best available control technology (BACT) applicable for the sources and types of contaminants emitted. The BACT is based upon control measures that are designed to minimize the level of emissions from specific sources at a facility. Applying BACT results in requiring technology that best controls air emissions with consideration given to the technical practicability and economic reasonableness of reducing or eliminating emissions. TCAA § 382.0518; 30 TAC § 116.111.

Southern Crushed has represented in the permit application that BACT will be used at the proposed site. Use of appropriate control measures will decrease the amount of air contaminants emitted into the atmosphere by this facility. The contaminant at this facility is particulate matter. The primary control measures applied to this facility are: spray bars located at the inlet and outlet of all crushers, screens, and transfer points; paving of plant roads; and applying water or environmentally sensitive chemicals on all aggregate stockpiles. Other control measures required by the draft permit include property line setbacks to provide buffer zones and restrictions on visible fugitive emissions from crushers, screens, transfer points on belt conveyors, and stockpiles.

For many permits, potential impacts to human health and welfare or the environment are determined by comparing air dispersion modeling predicted emission concentrations from the proposed facility to appropriate state and federal standards. [1,2] The specific health-based standards or guidance levels employed in evaluating the potential particulate matter emissions include the National Ambient Air Quality Standards (NAAQS) and TCEQ standards contained in 30 TAC Chapter 111, specifically 30 TAC § 111.155.

For this proposed change of location, the site at 2350 Bellfort Avenue was evaluated to insure that the new location will meet the relocation requirements outlined in existing permit number 40072, Special Condition 8.E., which establishes a minimum distance of 100 feet from the nearest property line. The City of Houston Bureau of Air Quality Control conducted a site review of the area on November 10, 2003, and measured the distance from the proposed location of the crusher to the nearest property line to be approximately 250 feet.

[2] Documents referenced in this response that are available on the TCEQ website are also available in printed form at a small cost from the TCEQ Publications office at 512-239-0028.

To establish the property line distance requirement contained in permit number 40072, appropriate air dispersion modeling was performed in August 2003, then audited by the TCEQ Air Dispersion Modeling Team. By comparing the facility's predicted emissions concentrations to the relevant state and federal standards, the agency determined the likelihood of Southern Crushed's emissions causing adverse health effects in members of the general public, including sensitive groups such as children, the elderly, or those with existing respiratory conditions. The agency used modeling data from this facility to verify that the ground level emissions concentrations from the proposed facility are not likely to adversely impact off-property receptors. The overall evaluation process provides a conservative prediction that is protective of the public. The modeling predictions were reviewed by the TCEQ Air Permits Division, and the modeling analysis was determined to be acceptable.

In addition to complying with the federal and state standards and guidelines mentioned above, applicants must also comply with 30 TAC § 101.4, which prohibits nuisance conditions. Specifically the rule states, "No person shall discharge from any source whatsoever one or more air contaminants or combinations thereof, in such concentration and of such duration as are or may tend to be injurious to or to adversely affect human health or welfare, animal life, vegetation, or property, or as to interfere with the normal use and enjoyment of animal life, vegetation, or property." As long as the facility is operated in compliance with the terms of the permit, nuisance conditions or conditions of air pollution are not expected. According to the facility's maximum allowable[3] emission rate table in the draft permit, the Southern Crushed facility will emit approximately 2.49 tons per year of particulate matter. These emissions are not expected to create nuisance conditions.

Emissions of particulate matter (PM) were evaluated for Southern Crushed's proposed facility. Particles up to 50 microns (μm) in diameter are collectively referred to as "total suspended particulates" (TSP). Particulate matter includes TSP, $PM_{2.5}$, and PM_{10}. Particulate matter consists of solid particles and liquid droplets found in the air. Particles less than 10 μm in diameter (PM_{10}) are referred to as "coarse" particles and particles less than 2.5 μm in diameter are referred to as "fine" particles ($PM_{2.5}$). Sources of coarse particles include wind-blown dust, dust generated by vehicles traveling on unpaved roads, and material handling. Fine particles are usually produced via industrial and residential combustion processes and vehicle exhaust.

Some of the key health effects associated with PM exposure are aggravation of pre-existing respiratory diseases such as chronic obstructive pulmonary diseases, asthma, bronchitis, or emphysema; increased respiratory symptoms such as coughing; changes in lung tissue and structure; and altered respiratory defense mechanisms. The ability of PM to generate these adverse health effects depends upon the concentration of PM to which a person is exposed, on the ability of PM to reach the sensitive regions of the respiratory system, its persistence, and its inherent toxicity. The NAAQS are created by the United States Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) and are set to protect sensitive members of the population such as children, the elderly, and individuals with existing respiratory conditions. At concentrations greater than the NAAQS, certain disease states such as asthma have the potential for increased deposition of particles because constriction and inflammation of airways or increased buildup of mucus may increase local particle deposition and hinder clearance mechanisms.

[3] The term "allowable" means the maximum emission rate of a specific pollutant from a given source, as specified in the permit.

The NAAQS for PM_{10} is based on 24-hour and annual time periods. The measurement for predicted concentrations of air contaminants in modeling exercises is expressed in terms of micrograms per cubic meter ($\mu g/m^3$). One microgram is 1/1,000,000 of a gram, or 2.2/1,000,000,000 of a pound (approximately the weight of a dust mite) of air contaminant per cubic meter of ambient air. The air volume of a cubic meter is approximately the size of a washing machine. Predicted air concentrations occurring below the 24-hour and annual NAAQS of 150 $\mu g/m^3$ and 50 $\mu g/m^3$, respectively, are not expected to exacerbate existing conditions or cause adverse health effects. At a distance of 100 feet from the edge of the crusher, the modeling for this facility predicts PM_{10} concentrations of 64 $\mu g/m^3$ (24-hour) and 13 $\mu g/m^3$ (annual), both of which fall below the standards defined in the NAAQS.

Particulate matter[4] is also regulated by state standards located in 30 TAC Chapter 111. Predicted air concentrations occurring below the one-hour and three-hour state standards of 400 $\mu g/m^3$ and 200 $\mu g/m^3$, respectively, are not expected to cause nuisance conditions (dust accumulation, decreased visibility) or eye and throat irritation. Based on air dispersion modeling described above, the predicted air concentrations of PM at a distance of 100 feet from the edge of the crusher are 159 $\mu g/m^3$ (one-hour) and 143 $\mu g/m^3$ (three-hour). Therefore based on the potential concentrations reviewed by the executive director's staff, it is not expected that existing health conditions will worsen or that adverse health effects in the general public, sensitive subgroups, or animal life will occur as a result of exposure to the expected levels of PM.

Individuals are encouraged to report any concerns about nuisance issues or suspected noncompliance with terms of any permit or other environmental regulation by contacting the TCEQ Houston Regional Office at 713-767-3500, or by calling the 24-hour toll-free Environmental Complaints Hotline at 1-888-777-3186. If the facility is found to be out of compliance with the terms and conditions of the permit, it will be subject to investigation and possible enforcement action. Citizen-collected evidence may be used in such an action. See 30 TAC § 70.4, Enforcement Action Using Information Provided by Private Individual, for details on gathering and reporting such evidence. The TCEQ has long had procedures in place for accepting environmental complaints from the general public but now has a new tool for bringing potential environmental problems to light. Under the citizen-collected evidence program, individuals can provide information on possible violations of environmental law and the information can be used by the TCEQ to pursue enforcement. In this program, citizens can become involved and may eventually testify at a hearing or trial concerning the violation. For additional information, see the TCEQ publication "Do You Want to Report an Environmental Problem? Do You Have Information or Evidence?" This booklet is available in English and Spanish from the TCEQ Publications office at 512-239-0028, and may be downloaded from the agency website at www.tceq.state.tx.us (under Publications, search for document no. 278).

COMMENT 5: "The Maximum Allowable Emission Rate Table (MAERT) indicates that the emission rates for all four sources were calculated on a maximum operating schedule of 2,200 hours per year. Emissions from the stockpiles, however, do not correlate to hours of operations. Therefore, if the emission rate for the stockpiles is based on 2,200 hours of operation it grossly underestimates the actual emissions that are likely to occur. If it is based on the actual number of hours in a year, 8,760, the statement that the emission rate is based on an operating schedule of 2,200 hours per year is not correct for this source." (Susan Taylor, Acting City of Houston Attorney)

[4] State standards do not refer to PM. Rather, state standards refer to Total Suspended Particulate, or "TSP". The terms TSP and PM have been used interchangeably. However, TSP more specifically refers to all particulate matter that can be captured in a high-volume air sampler regardless of particle size, whereas PM is usually further classified by particle size; i.e. PM_{30}, PM_{10}, and $PM_{2.5}$.

RESPONSE 5: Stockpiles emission rate calculations are based on a mathematical equation that factors in stockpile area, the number of active days per year, a control factor (BACT), and a stockpile emission factor. Stockpiles emission factors are subdivided into inactive days and active days. Emission factors for working stockpiles and wind erosion calculations are specified in the EPA's Compilation of Air Pollutant Emission Factors, AP-42 Manual. For working stockpiles (active days), the emission factor is 13.2 lbs/acre/day. For wind erosion only (inactive days), the emission factor is 3.5 lbs/acre/day. The predicted emissions from the stockpiles do account for every day of the year, not just days and hours when the stockpiles are being worked. The operating schedule for Southern Crushed's facility would be 10 hours per day, 5 days per week, 44 weeks per year, or 2,200 hours per year, which translates to 220 active days per year. Given the size of the stockpile, the application of water on the stockpile, and the number of active days per year, the particulate matter emission rate from Southern Crushed's stockpiles is estimated to be 1.25 tons per year.

COMMENT 6: "Only two of the four sources are from the rock crusher itself, and these two sources have the lowest emission rates. These sources also have the greatest operational controls in the permit special conditions. On the other hand, the largest sources of emissions, the aggregate handling and stockpiling operations, have virtually no operational controls other than the vague requirement that they be 'sprinkled with water and/or environmentally sensitive chemicals upon detection of visible particulate emissions' from 'area-type or truck-mounted water sprays.' The requirement to spray assumes the presence of an observer at the site at all times, yet the permit indicates the operations will occur no more than 10 hours per day, five days a week for 44 weeks per year, or a maximum of 2,200 hours per year. There are 8,760 hours in a calendar year, which means that 75% of the time emissions from the stockpiles will be unobserved and therefore, uncontrolled. Given the potential size of these stockpiles and the documented continuous prevailing winds in Houston, this failure to require control of the emissions is not protective of the health and safety of the residents in the area. At a minimum, the permit should require the twice-daily spraying of the stockpiles (morning and evening) as well as at any other time that emissions are observed." (Susan Taylor, Acting City of Houston Attorney)

RESPONSE 6: The four emission points were calculated according to the EPA's Compilation of Air Pollutant Emission Factors, AP-42 Manual. The lower emission rates from the crusher and screen are a direct result of the operational controls that are required in the draft permit special conditions. When freshly processed aggregate is loaded onto a storage pile, the potential for dust emissions is at a maximum. Fine grained particles are easily disaggregated and released to the atmosphere upon exposure to air currents, either from aggregate transfer itself or from high winds. As the aggregate pile weathers, however, the potential for dust emissions is greatly reduced. Moisture causes aggregation and cementation of fine grained particles to the surfaces of larger particles. Any significant rainfall soaks the interior of the pile, and then the drying process is very slow. Therefore, the greatest potential for stockpile emissions is during active operational hours. These are the hours when an observer will be on site to witness any visible emissions, if they occur. Applying water or environmentally sensitive chemicals to aggregate stockpiles is considered BACT. As shown in the maximum allowable emission rate table, not all particulate matter is expected to be removed from the emissions, but the emission levels are expected to comply with state and federal requirements. A requirement of twice-daily spraying of stockpiles, especially in an area that receives an average of greater than 40 inches of rain per year, could place additional strain on a storm water drainage system in a flood prone area. Special Condition #4 of the draft permit states, "no visible fugitive emissions from the crusher, screens, transfer points, material storage or feed bins, or stockpiles shall leave the property." Any visible emissions leaving the property would be a violation of the permit. Individuals are encouraged to report any concerns about visible emissions by contacting the Houston Regional Office at 713-767-3500, or by calling the 24-hour toll-free Environmental Complaints Hotline at 1-888-777-3186.

COMMENT 7: "The size of the stockpiles is not limited. If TCEQ has made a determination of protectiveness for this type of activity based on a maximum stockpile height, that should be included as a parameter in the permit. Previous TCEQ permits have limited stockpiles to no more than 45 feet, so we are concerned that this permit does not contain any limit on the size or number of stockpiles. In order to ensure that the operation of this facility will be protective of human health and the environment the size and number of stockpiles must be controlled." (Susan Taylor, Acting City of Houston Attorney)

RESPONSE 7: Stockpile emission rates are calculated as described in Response 5. The equation is based on stockpile area, not height. Therefore, any protectiveness determination is based on area of the stockpile, not the height of the stockpile. Stockpile height limitations are sometimes included in air quality permits upon request of a regional office, or local air program. Permit number 40072, the current authorization for this facility, has never included a stockpile height limitation. The TCEQ Houston Regional Office and the City of Houston Bureau of Air Quality Control agreed that a 45-foot stockpile height limitation did not need to be added to the draft permit.

COMMENT 8: "... the permit prohibits the crushing of any concrete containing asbestos at the facility. It does not, however, contain any requirement for keeping a record of the source of throughput, rendering this provision a nullity. Given the dramatic public health consequences of the emission of asbestos from this facility, more accountability is required. By what mechanism would this provision be enforced?" (Susan Taylor, Acting City of Houston Attorney)

RESPONSE 8: Special Condition 5.F. states, "No concrete containing asbestos shall be crushed at this facility." This is a prohibitive condition, which is enforceable if, upon investigation, Southern Crushed is found to be operating out of compliance with its permit. A possible source of asbestos in concrete is from the demolition of buildings containing asbestos. The Texas Asbestos Health Protection Rules and the National Emission Standards for Hazardous Air Pollutants (NESHAP) require that buildings be thoroughly inspected for asbestos-containing material prior to demolition. If the inspection reveals that regulated asbestos-containing material is present in the building, abatement of the asbestos-containing material is required prior to demolition. Therefore, if the building was demolished according to appropriate state and federal requirements, the resulting rubble pile is expected to be free of asbestos. If concrete containing asbestos was crushed at Southern Crushed's facility, not only would Southern Crushed be in violation of its permit, but the demolition site would also be in violation of state and federal laws and subject to enforcement action.

COMMENT 9: "... I would like for this Agency ... to review again that report that was sent in by the City of Houston's health department." (State Representative Al Edwards)

RESPONSE 9: The City of Houston Bureau of Air Quality Control, which is part of the City's Health Department, conducted a site review of the area on November 10, 2003. According to that site review, nuisance, odor, and hazard potentials were low. The review also described the surrounding land use as

"mixed light industrial/commercial area", and the nearest off-property receptor, a cement coating company, is approximately 900 feet away. The distance from the unit to the nearest property line, according to the site review, is approximately 250 feet. The recommendation of the City of Houston Bureau of Air Quality Control was to proceed with the permit review, and the site review indicated no reasons to deny the permit application. A follow-up site investigation by the TCEQ Houston Regional Office on February 26, 2004, agreed with the site review performed by the City of Houston Bureau of Air Quality Control, and the Regional Office recommended to proceed with the permit review.

COMMENT 10: "... when an application is submitted to the agency, versus when it's granted, what is the deadline?" (State Representative Al Edwards)

RESPONSE 10: No TCEQ rule or regulation sets a deadline between the time of receipt of a new source review construction permit application and the issuance (or denial) of that permit application.

COMMENT 11: "When do they actually get the approval? At the time they are approved, or the time that they file for the application?" (State Representative Al Edwards)

RESPONSE 11: If a permit application is approved, the permit issuance date corresponds to the date the issuance letter is signed by the Executive Director.

COMMENT 12: Several commenters raised environmental justice issues in relation to the location of concrete crushers in minority areas.

RESPONSE 12: Air quality permits evaluated by the agency are reviewed without any particular knowledge of, or reference to, the socioeconomic or racial status of the surrounding community. Although there are no TCEQ rules addressing environmental equity issues, the TCEQ has made a strong policy commitment to address environmental equity by creating an environmental equity program within the Office of Public Assistance. This program works to help citizens and neighborhood groups participate in the regulatory process; to ensure that agency programs that substantially affect human health or the environment operate without discrimination; and to make sure that citizens' concerns are considered thoroughly and are handled in a way that is fair to all. The Office of Public Assistance can be reached at 1-800-687-4040 for further information.

COMMENT 13: Is the TCEQ required to promulgate new rules when new legislation is passed? (State Representative Al Edwards)

RESPONSE 13: When new laws affecting TCEQ policies are passed by the legislature, new rules and guidelines are developed as to best carry out the new legislation. Often the legislation specifically requires rulemaking, but sometimes statutes can be implemented without rulemaking.

COMMENT 14: "I would like a list from the TCEQ of what is in concrete dust - the particles." (Councilmember Ada Edwards)

RESPONSE 14: Concrete is composed essentially of water, cement, sand, and coarse aggregate. Coarse aggregate may consist of gravel or crushed stone. Cement consists of a mixture of materials comprised of primarily calcium silicates, aluminates and aluminoferrites. Calcium, the element of highest concentration in cement, is obtained from a variety of calcareous raw materials, including limestone, chalk, marl, sea shells, aragonite, and an impure limestone known as natural cement rock. Concrete dust particles are essentially particles of cement, sand, and coarse aggregate.

COMMENT 15: "I don't know who (at the City of Houston Bureau of Air Quality Control) signed off on this (the site review), but I want to know. Since Mayor White signed a contract with the people, then evidently he is against this process here, based on his signing of this contract here. So I want to know why this (the permit application) is going forward. I also want to know from the TCEQ, since they (City of Houston Bureau of Air Quality Control) have such an integral part in this process, why they're not here to answer to their part." (Councilmember Ada Edwards)

RESPONSE 15: The City of Houston Bureau of Air Quality Control site review was signed by the investigator and the investigator's supervisor, which is standard procedure for site reviews. Air quality permitting is a function which the legislature has granted to the TCEQ, and while the agency values input from local elected officials, an elected official's opposition or support for a permit application does not control whether the agency grants a permit. The permit application must meet standards outlined in the TCAA and applicable state and federal rules and regulations. See Response 4 for more details. The TCEQ can not deny authorization of a facility if a permit application demonstrates that all applicable statutes, rules, and regulations will be met. A representative from the City of Houston Bureau of Air Quality Control was in attendance at the meeting as announced by the Office of Public Assistance at the beginning of the meeting.

COMMENT 16: Southern Crushed should not be allowed to permit this site because they have applied to permit this site before and should be prohibited from trying again. (Reverend Jimmy Jackson, Reverend Andrew Burkes)

RESPONSE 16: Southern Crushed chose to withdraw an earlier application for a concrete crushing facility at this site and then reapplied for authorization to move a concrete crushing facility to this site. When a permit application is withdrawn without prejudice, an applicant is not prohibited from subsequently reapplying to permit the same site.

COMMENT 17: "You need to be in an enclosed area and that way it won't affect anyone but the workers, but they can wear masks so it won't affect them." (Margaret Jenkins)

RESPONSE 17: Southern Crushed Concrete has represented that BACT will be met at this facility. Enclosure of the entire facility would surpass BACT and cannot be required by the TCEQ.

COMMENT 18: Southern Crushed Concrete's application should address the location. (Reverend Andrew Burkes)

RESPONSE 18: A certified land survey map was submitted as part of Southern Crushed's application. This adequately addresses the location of the crushing facility.

COMMENT 19: Is this cement biodegradable or is it non-biodegradable? (Kenneth Montgomery)

RESPONSE 19: Cement is not biodegradable. Cement can be broken down by processes such as weathering and erosion. However, it is not decomposed by biological processes.

COMMENT 20: Many schools are located in the neighborhood, and some commenters are concerned that the thousands of children will be breathing contaminated air. (State Representative Al Edwards, Dr. Alma Allen, and Irving Potts)

RESPONSE 20: Health effects from this facility are addressed in Response 4, including effects on children. The City of Houston Bureau of Air Quality Control conducted a site review of the area on November 10, 2003, which stated that the nearest school is Ethel Mosely Young Elementary at 3555 Bellfort. The school is located approximately 7,000 feet (1.33 miles) from the proposed crusher location. A follow-up site review conducted by the TCEQ Houston Regional Office on February 26, 2004, confirmed that the closest school is Ethel Mosely Young Elementary, which is 2,429 yards (7,287 feet) from the existing stockpile location. At this distance, the proposed crusher is not expected to cause adverse health effects in children as a result of exposure to the expected levels of PM.

COMMENT 21: "The applicant has already amassed a stockpile at the site prior to obtaining their permit. ... is the applicant not in violation of operating a facility without a permit? If the answer is 'no', then what regulations are in place to limit how high someone can stockpile things on their property prior to receiving a permit?" (Scott Rubenstein, Texas Pipe and Supply Company, Inc.)

RESPONSE 21: As explained in Response 3, stockpiles by themselves are not considered facilities. Therefore permits are not required for individual stockpiles. The height of stockpiles is a zoning issue, and the TCEQ does not have zoning authority. If you have concerns regarding zoning, or other issues which are not within the jurisdiction of the TCEQ, please contact your city or county officials.

COMMENT 22: "It is our understanding that the facility at 2838 W. Bellfort is also a residence and therefore the applicant has failed to meet the special condition No. 16 of the existing permit which states that the facility cannot be within 1/4 mile of any residence." (Scott Rubenstein, Texas Pipe and Supply Company, Inc.)

RESPONSE 22: Special Condition Number 8.E.(2) states, "When crushing concrete, the crusher and all associated sources shall be located at least 440 yards from any structure which was in use as a residence, school, or place of worship at the time when the application for the permit to operate the crusher at that location was filed with the TCEQ. This condition does not apply at a location for which TCEQ authorization for the operation of a concrete crusher was in effect on September 1, 2001." The address of the proposed location is 2350 Bellfort. The 2838 W. Bellfort address is approximately 2.16 miles from 2350 Bellfort.

COMMENT 23: "No modeling has been conducted to evaluate Southern Crushed Concrete's compliance with any applicable ambient air quality standards or the site's potential indirect impacts on water, land, and food crops. There is no evidence to compare the ambient impacts of various compounds to the TCEQ's Effects Screening Levels." (Scott Rubenstein, Texas Pipe and Supply Company, Inc.)

RESPONSE 23: Modeling was conducted for this facility and is addressed in Response 4. In many instances modeling results are then sent to the Toxicology and Risk Assessment section (TARA) to evaluate whether emissions from the proposed facility are expected to cause health or nuisance problems. The TARA section reviews the results from air dispersion modeling by comparing those results to the TCEQ Effects Screening Levels. However, emissions from certain industries on the TARA section "screening list" do not require a TARA impacts review. Emissions of particulate matter from facilities like rock crushers, concrete batch plants, and soil-stabilization plants are included on the screening list because the PM emissions are not expected to have adverse impacts, and therefore if expected emissions are within state and federal limits, the permit is considered protective.

COMMENT 24: "... if the facility was found to be out of compliance with the terms of the permit, to what enforcement action would the facility be subject? Please provide tangible examples." (Scott Rubenstein, Texas Pipe and Supply Company, Inc.)

RESPONSE 24: Violations are usually addressed with a notice of violation (NOV) that allows the operator time to correct the problem. The violation is resolved upon timely corrective action. A formal enforcement referral will be made if the cited problem is not timely corrected, if the violation is repeated, or if a violation is causing substantial impact to the environment or neighbors. In most cases, formal enforcement results in an agreed enforcement order including penalties and technical requirements for corrective action. Penalties are based upon the severity and duration of the violation(s).

COMMENT 25: "We are still concerned about ultimate damage to the water system, including potential damage to and pollution of the local water/groundwater supply. We are concerned about the negative impact the plant will have on ground water." (Scott Rubenstein, Texas Pipe and Supply Company, Inc.)

RESPONSE 25: The scope of an air permit review does not include evaluation of water supply. The TCAA does not grant permitting authority regarding water. Water quality issues are addressed through water quality permitting. The issuance of an air quality permit does not allow a facility to operate in violation of any other permitting authority.
