

Texas AgriLife Research and Extension Center - Dallas
Intern – Water Resources Management

Wage: $10/hr

Responsibilities

- Provides assistance for an effective educational/outreach program that supports water conservation and water quality improvement
- Assists in implementing, and evaluating an effective outcome-based program that supports identified water issues in the DFW Metroplex
- Assist in effectively reporting, marketing, and interpreting results of programming efforts
- Delivers educational presentations dealing with water conservation and water quality to the general public, school age children, professional organizations, municipal officials etc. to promote effective and efficient use of water in the DFW Metroplex
- Assists AgriLife Researchers and AgriLife Extension Specialists to update and develop educational materials related to water conservation and water quality
- Gathers information related to water conservation issues to be posted on project Web sites and to be used by AgriLife Extension Specialist in developing program material

Skills/Traits

- Outgoing, engaging and motivating personality
- Strong public speaking, presentation and writing skills
- Willingness to travel
- Highly organized
- Professional demeanor
- Ability to function as a part of a team
- Ability to multi-task
- Must have a strong service ethic and desire to work with all audiences in the DFW Metroplex and surrounding counties, regardless of socioeconomic level, race, color, sex, religion, disability or national origin.

How to Apply

- Send cover letter and resume to Clint Wolfe at c-wolfe@tamu.edu