Natural Outlook is the TNRCC's quarterly publication of environmental issues in Texas. Below is the Web version of the Spring 2002 issue for your viewing.

Spring 2002 Issue

Happy Birthday, Clean Texas

Ten years ago, the state began sponsoring voluntary programs that reward environmental performance.

A Change in the Air

The TNRCC joins with other state agencies in launching two public education campaigns concerning air quality. "Drive Clean Across Texas" and "AirCheckTexas" both take to the airwaves this spring with messages about the health benefits of reducing air pollution.

Talk About the Environment

Texans participating in a public opinion poll voice their views on air quality and some suggested cleanup remedies.

New Emissions Tests Arrive in Two Urban Areas

Cars and trucks registered in Houston and Dallas-Fort Worth are required to undergo more advanced tests for pollutants.

For the Sake of Clean Air

TNRCC Chairman Robert J. Huston explains the benefits of finding—and repairing—the vehicles that pollute the most.

What You Can Do to Improve Air Quality

Tips for what Texans can do close to home to reduce air pollution.

A Helping Hand

Frontline staffers in the TNRCC's Office of Public Assistance are available to guide the public through the environmental permitting process.

Homeland Security

In an age of heightened security concerns, the TNRCC re-evaluates the protection of environmental systems.

TCEQ ... Here We Come

The TNRCC prepares to take on a new name.
