EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

Texas Emissions Reduction Plan

This fourth biennial report is provided by the Texas Commission on Environmental Quality in fulfillment of the requirements of Texas Health and Safety Code 386.057 and 386.116(d).

The Texas Emissions Reduction Plan (TERP) was established by the 77th Texas Legislature in 2001, through enactment of Senate Bill (SB) 5, to help improve and maintain good air quality in areas throughout the state.

Since the start of the program, there have been several legislative revisions. In 2003, House Bill (HB) 1365, 78th Texas Legislature, established a new revenue source of vehicle title fee increases under Texas Transportation Code 501.138(a–b) to replace the original $225 out-of-state vehicle registration fee, which was determined to be unconstitutional. In addition, under Texas Tax Code 151.0515 the existing surcharge on the sale, lease, or rental of new or used off-road equipment increased from one to two percent. A one percent surcharge was added for the sale, lease, or use of model 1997 and later heavy-duty diesel on-road vehicles under Tax Code 152.0215(a). The bill added a program for small business grants and increased the number of counties and the types of projects eligible for the Emissions Reduction Incentive Grants and Small Business Grants programs.

House Bill 37 set appropriation levels for various TERP programs. This bill, in conjunction with HB 43, defined roles of the TCEQ and the Texas Council on Environmental Technology (TCET) in administering the New Technology Research and Development (NTRD) Program.

In 2005, HB 2481, 79th Texas Legislature, established cost-effectiveness limits for locomotive and marine vessel grants. The bill also directed the TCEQ to implement a new Rebate Grants program under the TERP incentive programs. The TCEQ is to award rebate grants in order to streamline grant applications, contracting, reimbursement, and reporting for certain projects. The bill transferred the administration and implementation of the NTRD program from the TCEQ to the Texas Environmental Research Consortium (TERC), a nonprofit organization based in Houston. It also repealed the statutory provision requiring the TCEQ to include NTRD information in this biennial report.

House Bill 3469 authorized the TCEQ to create and implement a new Texas Clean School Bus Program to reduce emissions of diesel exhaust from school buses.

In 2007, SB 12, 80th Texas Legislature, amended the TERP program. It raised the maximum cost-effectiveness from $13,000 to $15,000 per ton of NO_x reduced. The bill allowed travel on highways and roadways designated by the commission to count towards the requirement that grant-funded on-road vehicles be operated at least 75 percent of the annual miles in the nonattainment areas and affected counties. In addition the bill added marine vessels to the list of vehicles and equipment for which an electrification or idle-reduction infrastructure project may be funded. The bill authorized the TCEQ to fund other state agencies to lease, purchase, or install idle-reduction infrastructure at rest areas and other public facilities located on major highway transportation routes in eligible nonattainment areas and affected counties.

House Bill 160 added a new category to the list of infrastructure projects that may be funded under the TERP. The new project category is to fund rail relocation and improvement projects at major rail intersections in the eligible counties to reduce locomotive engine idling.

Programs

Several government agencies are responsible for developing and implementing TERP-related programs. In addition to the TCEQ, these agencies include the Texas Comptroller of Public Accounts (CPA), the State Energy Conservation Office (SECO), the Public Utility Commission of Texas (PUC), and local governments. The Energy Systems Laboratory (ESL) at the Texas Engineering Experiment Station of the Texas A&M University system assists in energy-efficiency and renewable energy research, along with emissions-reduction calculations. A description of each program follows.

Emissions Reduction Incentive Grants Program. Authorized in Health and Safety Code 386.102, this program is managed by the TCEQ and provides grants to cover the incremental costs of projects in the State's 41 air quality nonattainment, near-nonattainment, and early-action-compact counties. Eligible projects include new purchases, replacements, repowers, retrofit technologies, infrastructure, qualifying fuels, and rail relocation and improvement.

Rebate Grants Program. Health and Safety Code 386.117 directs the TCEQ to award rebate grants in order to streamline grant applications, contracting, reimbursement, and reporting for on-road heavy-duty vehicles and non-road equipment in the eligible counties in the nonattainment areas. Projects are limited to replacements and repowers.

Third-Party Grants. The TCEQ may issue grants to third parties to use the funds for pass-through grants for projects consistent with the TERP Guidelines. The TCEQ has awarded three third-party grants to assist with the implementation of TERP projects in eligible areas: the Railroad Commission of Texas to fund propane vehicle and equipment projects; the North Central Texas Council of Governments to fund various TERP projects, including refuse-hauler projects; and the Texas General Land Office to fund natural gas vehicle and equipment projects.

Small Business Grants Program. Per Health and Safety Code 386.116, businesses that own and operate one or two vehicles or pieces of equipment—one of which must be diesel-powered and a pre-1994 model vehicle—or pieces of non-road equipment with “uncontrolled emissions” are considered small businesses. The TCEQ is to award grants to small businesses under a quick and simple process.

Texas Clean School Bus Program. This program, established under Health and Safety Code 390.002 and managed by the TCEQ per 386.052, is intended to reduce emissions of diesel exhaust from school buses throughout the state. Eligible projects may include emissions-reducing add-on equipment and other projects.

Heavy-Duty Motor Vehicle Purchase or Lease Incentive Program. This is a statewide program under Health and Safety Code 386.112 to reimburse a purchaser or lessee of an eligible new on-road heavy-duty vehicle for the incremental costs of purchasing or leasing the vehicle in lieu of a higher-emitting diesel powered vehicle. A heavy-duty vehicle is defined as a motor vehicle with a gross vehicle weight rating of 10,000 pounds or more. This program is managed by the TCEQ, but has not yet been implemented due to funding constraints.

Light-Duty Motor Vehicle Purchase or Lease Incentive Program. Per Health and Safety Code 386.152, this program is administered by the CPA and the TCEQ. The program provides financial incentives (rebates) for the purchase or lease of an eligible new car or light truck meeting certain U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) emission standards. This program has not yet been implemented due to funding constraints.

Energy-Efficiency Grants Program. The PUC has jurisdiction over this program, per Health and Safety Code 386.202. The PUC regulates energy-efficiency programs to meet demand-reduction goals in the 41 counties. The original TERP program included authorization for grant funding to be administered by the PUC. This authorization was removed by HB 1365. However, the PUC administers other energy-efficiency programs and reports the results of those programs to the TCEQ.

Texas Building Energy Performance Standards. Local governments have the responsibility to administer and enforce the standards found in the International Energy Conservation Code and the chapter on energy efficiency in the International Residential Code. The ESL is responsible for assessing the energy savings from adopted energy codes. The program is authorized by Health and Safety Code 388.003.

Energy-efficiency programs in certain political subdivisions.

This program requires counties and political subdivisions in the affected areas to establish the goal of reducing energy consumption by 5 percent per year and to implement cost effective energy-efficiency measures. As required by Health and Safety Code 388.005 and 399.006, organizations report their progress each year to the SECO.

New Technology Research and Development. Authorized in Health and Safety Code Chapter 387, the primary objective of this program is to promote the development and commercialization of technologies that will support projects that can be funded under the TERP Emissions Reduction Incentive Grants program. In 2005, HB 2481 transferred the administration and implementation of the NTRD program from the TCEQ to the TERC. The program is funded via a contract with the TCEQ. In addition, HB 2481 repealed the statute requiring the TCEQ to report information on the NTRD program to the legislature.

Funding

The TERP revenue is allocated through appropriation by the legislature. The revenue allocation for the last four fiscal years is shown in the table below.

Allocation of TERP Revenue

^aTCEQ allocation of TERP revenue per comptroller records for fiscal 2005. For fiscal 2006–08, per CPA and TCEQ records. The TCEQ allocation includes funds awarded under grant contract to the TERC to implement the NTRD program and funds allocated to the Texas Clean School Bus Program.

^bThis amount represents money remaining in the fund after all appropriations are made. The ending balance in 2005 is from unspent funds from prior years that were not encumbered at the close of fiscal 2005. The unappropriated fund balance for the 2006–07 biennium is from the 2007 Annual Financial Report.

Status and Results to Date

Emissions Reduction Incentive Grants Program. The TCEQ has established guidelines and technical supplements for administering the Emissions Reduction Incentive Grants (ERIG) Program. Additionally, for every round of funding, a Request for Applications (RFA) is released. Each RFA highlights TERP goals, areas, and projects eligible for funding, and application details. Cost-effectiveness measures and limits on emission reduction costs per ton are also included in the RFA.

Since the beginning of the program in 2001 through September 2008, the TCEQ has awarded grants to, or approved with contracts pending, 4,844 projects under all grant categories for $712,871,111. These projects are projected to reduce NO_x emissions by 150,971 tons, representing 71.4359 tons per day, at a cost per ton of $4,721.

Of the grants awarded or pending, 2,532 are funded under the ERIG Program for $575,921,947.18. The ERIG projects are projected to reduce NO_x emissions by 130,415.1370 tons, representing 60.0388 tons per day, at a cost per ton of $4,416.

Rebate Grants Program. The Rebate Grants Program has been in place since April 2006. This program uses default factors, including default usage levels, for calculating reductions in emissions. The application process was simplified and maximum rebate grant amounts are pre-determined, so that applicants know how much money they are eligible to receive before applying for the grant.

Of the grants awarded or approved pending contracts, the TCEQ has awarded or approved 1,205 rebate grants for $80,133,722.47. The rebate grant projects are projected to reduce NO_x emissions by 11,741.0207 tons, representing 6.7092 tons per day, at a cost per ton of $6,825.

Third-Party Grants. The TCEQ has awarded $56,815,442 in third-party grants to the Railroad Commission of Texas, the North Central Texas Council of Governments, the Texas General Land Office, and the Houston-Galveston Area Council. These grants are currently projected to reduce NO_x emissions by 8,815.1224 tons, representing 4.6879 tons per day, at a cost of $6,445.22.

Small Business Grants Program. Of the grants awarded or pending contracts, 691 grantees were identified as small businesses. These grants totaled $47,178,109.75, with projected reductions in NO_x emissions of 7,022.7421 tons, representing 4.1704 tons per day, at a cost per ton of $6,717. The TCEQ estimates that many more grant recipients met the definition of “small business,” but did not apply under the rebate grant program.

Clean School Bus Grants Program. Over the 2008–09 biennium, the legislature appropriated $3.75 million per fiscal year for the Texas Clean School Bus Program, to install retrofit devices to reduce diesel exhaust emissions from school buses throughout the state. The TCEQ allocated an additional $2.1 million per fiscal year from the appropriations to the TERP Emissions Reduction Incentive Grants Program to supplement these funds in order to help address the significant interest in the program. These additional funds are targeted at school districts in the TERP eligible counties in the nonattainment, near-nonattainment, and early-action-compact areas.

In fiscal 2008, the TCEQ awarded $4.8 million to 51 school districts. As a result, approximately 2,600 school buses around the state will provide a healthier ride to both drivers and their K–12 student passengers. Significant interest remains in the program and the TCEQ expects to commit the fiscal 2009 funds very quickly.

Heavy-Duty Motor Vehicle Purchase or Lease Incentive Program.

This program has not been implemented because of funding constraints. However, the program is authorized and could be implemented in the future.

Light-Duty Motor Vehicle Purchase or Lease Incentive Program.

The program was suspended by the Comptroller in 2002 due to an inadequate fund balance from SB 5 revenue sources. Since fiscal 2003, the legislature has not appropriated funds to the program. This program is still authorized and could be implemented in the future.

Energy-Efficiency Grants Program. The PUC administers energy efficiency programs established in 1999 by SB 7, 76th Texas Legislature, and in 2001 by SB 5, 77th Texas Legislature. The funding for energy efficiency grants under SB 5 was discontinued in 2003. However, the PUC continues to report reductions in energy demand, peak loads, and associated emissions under the SB 7 provisions in Texas Utility Code 39.905. During 2007, utilities cumulatively exceeded their goals for savings in demand by 25 percent and saved nearly 371,459 megawatt-hours (MWh) of energy. The transmission and distributions utilities, which are responsible for implementing the energy-efficiency program, achieved 152 megawatts of demand savings during calendar year 2007. Based on the report from the ESL, the cumulative savings from the PUC's SB 5 and SB 7 energy efficiency programs through 2007 was 1,598,054 MWh/year. The ESL estimates that these electricity savings could represent up to 1,125 tons of NO_x emissions reductions.

Texas building energy performance standards. The ESL assesses energy savings in nonattainment and affected counties for energy-compliant new construction. The ESL reports an estimated cumulative electricity savings through 2007 for these programs of 1,440,885 MWh/year, for an estimated cumulative annual NO_x emissions reductions of 1,014 tons.

Energy-efficiency programs in certain political subdivisions.

The SECO works with local governments to establish and implement goals to reduce electrical consumption by 5 percent, and the ESL assists those local governments and reports on the estimated energy savings and reductions in NO_x emissions. The number of Texas jurisdictions adopting the 5 percent goal for public facilities increased from 176 in 2002 to 280 in 2006. The ESL estimates that the cumulative energy savings from these changes could be as high as 353,701 MWh/year, for an estimated cumulative annual NO_x emissions reduction of 270 tons.

TCEQ Monitoring Efforts

To minimize the risk of fraud, the TCEQ has implemented a three-tiered Quality Assurance and Fraud Prevention and Detection Program. This program evaluates risks and monitors performance in the three main project phases: application, contracting, and tracking and reporting results.

Future Considerations for the TERP Programs

Issues that will be addressed by the TCEQ during the remainder of fiscal 2009 and into the 2010–2011 biennium are outlined below.

Emissions Reduction Incentive Grants Program

- The priority for use of the grant funds will be to continue to help meet the goals of the SIP.
- Cost per ton criteria will also be evaluated each year in relation to the types of projects being submitted by applicants. Adjustments may be considered as appropriate to further encourage applications from targeted emission sectors.

Rebate Grants Program and Small Business Grants Program

- The TCEQ will continue to allocate a portion of the funding for the Rebate Grants program.
- The Small Business Grants program will continue to be implemented as a part of the Rebate Grants program.

Third-Party Grants

- The TCEQ will continue the third-party grants program and, where appropriate, expand the grants to additional parties where the grants may benefit the TERP.

Texas Clean School Bus Program

- The TCEQ will continue to implement the Texas Clean School Bus Program to help school districts in Texas reduce exposure of school children to potentially harmful diesel exhaust.

New Technology Research and Development Program

- The TCEQ will continue to administer a contract with the TERC to implement the NTRD program. The TERC is responsible for establishing the program's priorities.

Legislative Issues

- The TCEQ has neither proposed nor taken a position on any legislative changes to the criteria for the TERP. TCEQ personnel are available to provide any data and information that may be needed to assist the legislature in evaluating proposals from stakeholders regarding the TERP.

I. OVERVIEW

The 2008 Texas Emissions Reduction Plan (TERP) Legislative Report is submitted by the Texas Commission on Environmental Quality (TCEQ) in fulfillment of the requirements of Texas Health and Safety Code 386.057 and 386.116(d).

Purpose

The TERP was established by the 77th Texas Legislature in 2001, through enactment of Senate Bill (SB) 5. The goals of the TERP, as set forth in SB 5, are to:

- ensure that the air in this state is safe to breathe and meets minimum federal standards established under the federal Clean Air Act (Section 7407, Title 42, United States Code);
- develop multi-pollutant approaches to solving the state's environmental problems; and
- adequately fund research and development that will make the state a leader in new technologies that can solve the state's environmental problems while creating new business and industry in the state.

The focus of the TERP is to reduce emissions of nitrogen oxides (NO_x) through voluntary financial incentive programs. One of the main drivers for establishment of the TERP was to replace reductions that would have been achieved through two mandatory measures (time restrictions on use of construction and industrial equipment and the requirement to replace older off-road equipment with new equipment) that SB 5 directed the TCEQ to remove from the State Implementation Plan (SIP) for the Dallas–Fort Worth and Houston–Galveston–Brazoria ground-level ozone nonattainment areas. Projects in the other nonattainment, near-nonattainment, and early action compact areas of the state are also eligible for TERP funding. The list of TERP-eligible counties is included in Appendix 1.

Texas Emissions Reduction Plan Advisory Board

The TERP Advisory Board is a 15-member body created under SB 5. Five members each are appointed by the Governor, Lieutenant Governor, and Speaker of the House of Representatives. The Board also includes seven ex officio members. A list of members is included in Appendix 2.

II. FUNDING

Revenue

TERP funding sources were first established by SB 5, with subsequent changes made by House Bill (HB) 1365. The current funding sources from the Texas Tax Code and Texas Transportation Code are listed below.

- Tax Code 151.0515: two percent surcharge on sale price or lease/rental amount of off-road, heavy-duty diesel equipment sold, rented or leased, and including the same surcharge on the storage, use, or other consumption of new or used equipment
- Tax Code 151.0215(a): two and one-half percent surcharge of the total consideration on sale or lease of model year pre-1997 vehicles over 14,000 pounds and 1 percent of model year 1997 and later
- Transportation Code 502.1675: ten percent surcharge of total fees due for registration of truck tractors and commercial motor vehicles
- Transportation Code 501.138(a): As of July 2003, a portion of certificate of the vehicle title fee—$20 out of $33 fee for applicants in nonattainment counties and $15 out of $28 fee for applicants in other counties
- Transportation Code 548.5055: $10 fee on commercial motor vehicles required to be inspected

The revenue received into the TERP Fund for the last four fiscal years is listed in Appendix 3.

Funds Allocation

Health and Safety Code 386.252 directs that the revenue received into the TERP fund be allocated as follows:

- 87.5 percent to be used for the Emissions Reduction Incentive program, of which not more than four percent may be used for the clean school bus program and not more than 10 percent may be used for the on-road diesel purchase or lease incentives;
- 9.5 percent to be used for the NTRD program, of which $500,000 is to be deposited to the Clean Air Account to supplement funding for air quality activities in the 41 counties, a maximum of $250,000 to be used for administrative costs, and a minimum 20 percent to support air quality research in the Houston/Galveston/Brazoria and Dallas/Fort Worth nonattainment areas; and

- 3 percent to cover administrative costs associated with the TCEQ's administration of the Emissions Reduction Incentive Program and the work of the ESL.

Notwithstanding the allocation formula set forth in Health and Safety Code 286.352, the legislative appropriations under the State Appropriations Act dictate the specific funding amounts that may be used from the TERP Fund and how those funds are allocated. The overall appropriations for the last four fiscal years are listed in Appendix 4.

For the 2008-2009 biennium, the funding appropriation from the TERP Fund was $166,921,594 in fiscal 2008 and $170,921,594 in fiscal 2009. The Legislature further allocated the funds through the Appropriations Act as follows:

- $146,806,644 in fiscal 2008 and $150,337,599 in fiscal 2009 for the Diesel Emissions Reduction Programs, including $3,750,000 in each fiscal year to the Clean School Bus Program;
- $17,880,033 in fiscal 2008 and $18,210,078 in fiscal 2009 for grant funding for the NTRD Program;
- $2,234,917 in fiscal 2008 and $2,273,917 in fiscal 2009 to administer the Emissions Reduction Incentive Programs; and
- $250,000 each fiscal year to administer the NTRD Program.

III. PROGRAM ACCOMPLISHMENTS

Emissions Reduction Incentive Grants (ERIG) Program

This program is managed by the TCEQ and provides grants to fund the incremental costs of projects in the state's 41 ozone nonattainment and near-nonattainment counties. Eligible projects include new purchases, replacements, repowers, retrofit technologies, infrastructure, and qualifying fuels. For a project to be eligible, it must be certified to emit 25 percent less NO_x than the baseline engine, based on the federal standard for that engine. Certification means approved by the EPA, the California Air Resources Board, or otherwise accepted by the TCEQ.

For each round of grant funding, a Request For Applications (RFA) is released. With each RFA, the TCEQ conducts workshops and provides outreach material for potential applicants, along with the program guidelines and technical supplements. Applicants are able to access information via the TERP Web site, <www.terpgrants.org>, and receive assistance from TCEQ staff through the TERP Hotline, 800-919-TERP.

Per Health and Safety Code 386.106, grants may not be awarded to projects that exceed $15,000 per ton of NO_x emissions reduced. The TCEQ has the authority to set cost per ton limits lower than the maximum amount authorized in the statute. For each RFA round, the TCEQ has established a maximum cost per ton for eligible activities that is less than the statutorily-authorized maximum.

Also, in 2005 HB2481, 79th Texas Legislature, directed the TCEQ to establish lower cost per ton limits for locomotive and marine vessel projects than for projects involving other emission sources. For the latest round of funding, locomotive and marine projects were limited to a cost per ton of NO_x reductions not to exceed $5,000, while other project categories were limited to $10,000.

Since the beginning of the program in 2001 through September 2008, the TCEQ has awarded grants to or approved with contracts pending 4,844 projects under all grant categories for $712,871,111. These projects are projected to reduce NO_x emissions by 150,971.2801 tons, representing 71.4359 tons per day, at a cost per ton of $4,721.

In fiscal 2008, the TCEQ conducted enhanced outreach and education efforts, including billboards, radio and print media advertisements, and extra application assistance activities. The U.S. Environmental Protection Agency Region 6, North Central Texas Council of Governments, City of Dallas, and other local entities provided substantial assistance with these outreach and assistance efforts in the Dallas-Fort Worth nonattainment area. Over 1,100 projects for $140 million were selected in the fiscal 2008 ERIG grant round, which set a record for the number of projects selected for funding under a single grant round.

A list of the projects awarded grants or approved pending contracts through September 2008 is provided in Appendix 5. The list in Appendix 5 includes information on infrastructure projects funded to date, as required under Health and Safety Code 386.057(b)(2). Appendix 6 includes a summary of these projects by area and Appendix 7 includes a summary by emission source. This list is subject to change as the grant awards are completed and accepted by the grant recipients. Up to date lists and summary information are available from the TCEQ.

Of the grants awarded or pending, 2,532 are funded under the ERIG Program for $575,921,947.18. The ERIG projects are projected to reduce NO_x emissions by 130,415.1370 tons, representing 60.0388 tons per day, at a cost per ton of $4,416.

Rebate Grants Program

The TCEQ has implemented a Rebate Grants Program to implement a portion of the TERP, as authorized under Health and Safety Code 386.117.

Activities eligible for a rebate grant are intended to reduce NO_x emissions in the designated eligible counties from on-road heavy-duty diesel vehicles and non-road diesel equipment. Rebate grants are based on pre-approved maximum rebate grant amounts for eligible on-road and non-road replacement and repower projects.

The program is funded through the Emissions Reduction Incentive Grants program and is administered under the same program guidelines, quality assurance, and monitoring procedures.

Of the grants awarded or approved pending contracts, the TCEQ has awarded or approved 1,205 rebate grants for $80,133,722.47. These grants are projected to reduce NO_x emissions by 11,741.0207 tons, representing 6.7092 tons per day, at a cost per ton of $6,825.

Third-Party Grants Program

The TCEQ may issue grants to third parties to use the funds for pass-through grants for projects consistent with the TERP Guidelines. The TCEQ has awarded three third-party grants to assist with the implementation of TERP projects in eligible areas: the Railroad Commission of Texas to fund propane vehicle and equipment projects; North Central Texas Council of Governments to fund various TERP projects, including refuse hauler projects; and the Texas General Land Office to fund natural gas vehicle and equipment projects.

The TCEQ has awarded $56,815,442 in third-party grants. These grants are currently projected to reduce NO_x emissions by 8,815.1224 tons, representing 4.6879 tons per day, at a cost per ton of $6,445.

The third-party grant awards are included in the list provided in Appendix 5 and the summary information in Appendix 6 and 7. The subgrants awarded and reported by the third-party grant recipients are listed individually. Funding that has not been reported by the third-party grant recipients as awarded to a subgrant is listed by third-party grant recipient.

Small Business Grants Program

The Small Business Grants program targets small businesses and other entities that own and operate not more than two vehicles or equipment, one of which must be diesel-powered and a pre-1994 model year vehicle or non-road equipment with “uncontrolled emissions” as defined in Health and Safety Code 386.116. The program was first established in fiscal 2004.

The program is a streamlined way for small businesses in the 41 counties to apply for financial assistance to replace or repower vehicles or equipment, via a simplified application process. The program is funded through the Emissions Reduction Incentive Grants program and is administered under the same program guidelines, quality assurance and fraud prevention and detection program measures.

The TCEQ has incorporated the small business grants into the Rebate Grants program. A minimum of $5 million of the rebate grant program funding each application period has been set aside for small businesses.

In addition to workshops, TCEQ’s Small Business and Local Government Assistance staff assisted with outreach efforts in the eligible areas. They provided presentations for local association and small business meetings. They also helped applicants with program and application questions.

Of the grants awarded or pending contracts, 691 grantees were identified as small businesses. These grants totaled $47,178,109.75, with projected NO_x emissions reductions of 7,022.7421 tons, representing 4.1704 tons per day, at a cost per ton of $6,717.9044. The TCEQ estimates that many more grant recipients met the definition of small business, but did not apply under the rebate grant program. Small business projects are included in the list in Appendix 5.

Texas Clean School Bus Program

Over the 2008-2009 biennium, the legislature appropriated $3.75 million per fiscal year for the Texas Clean School Bus Program to install retrofit devices to reduce diesel exhaust emissions from school buses throughout the state. The TCEQ allocated an additional $2.1 million per fiscal year from the appropriations to the TERP Emissions Reduction Incentive Grants Program to supplement these funds in order to help address the significant interest in the program. These additional funds were targeted at school districts in the TERP-eligible affected counties.

Exposure to diesel exhaust from school buses is known to aggravate asthma, allergies, and other respiratory problems. Long-term exposure may lead to more serious health problems. Under the Texas Clean School

Bus Program, buses were fitted with devices that prevent potentially harmful particulate matter (PM) from entering the bus cabin.

In fiscal 2008, a total of $4.8 million was approved for grants to 51 school districts. As a result, when classes began in the fall, approximately 2,600 school buses around the state will provide a healthier ride to both drivers and their K-12 student passengers. These projects are listed in Appendix 8.

School bus funds may be used to purchase and install pollution-prevention equipment on existing models to reduce emissions of harmful particulate matter. Approved technologies include: closed crankcase filtration systems; diesel particulate filters; diesel oxidation catalysts; and partial flow-through filters.

In addition, the TERP Emissions Reduction Incentive Grant program has also provided funding over the last six years for school bus projects in certain eligible counties. Grants were awarded to upgrade or replace diesel engines to reduce NO_x emissions.

Heavy-Duty Motor Vehicle Purchase or Lease Incentive Program

This is a statewide TCEQ rebate program to cover the incremental cost difference of purchasing or leasing cleaner heavy-duty vehicles (10,000 pounds or greater). Rules and guidelines were adopted in 2001, but due to reduced revenues, no funds have been allocated to the program.

Light-Duty Motor Vehicle Purchase or Lease Incentive Program

This program is similar to the Heavy-Duty Motor Vehicle Purchase or Lease Incentive program and applies to vehicles weighing less than 10,000 pounds. The program is to be administered jointly by the CPA and the TCEQ. Rules and guidelines were adopted in 2001, but the program was suspended in 2002, due to an inadequate fund balance. Since 2003, no funds have been appropriated to this program by the Legislature.

Energy-Efficiency Grants Program

The PUC had jurisdiction for the Energy-Efficiency Grants program using money from the TERP Fund. In fiscal 2002 and 2003, the PUC provided grants to electric companies in the TERP-eligible counties to reduce electricity consumption. The PUC approved templates for a variety of energy-efficiency technologies to be implemented that contribute to a reduction in electric consumption. Lower energy consumption results in a reduction in electric production and an avoidance of NO_x producing emissions. Funding and authorization for this program was eliminated by the Legislature in 2003.

The PUC continues to have responsibility for the energy efficiency program established by SB 7 in 1999. The 1999 legislation introduced retail competition in the sale of electricity and directed the PUC to establish energy-efficiency programs to meet a specific demand reduction goal. Although the 1999 legislated demand reduction goal was not explicitly adopted to reduce air emissions, the energy savings achieved through the energy-efficiency program also provide corresponding reductions in air emissions within nonattainment areas.

The PUC is required to report the reductions of energy demand, peak loads, and associated emissions. Table 3. below provides a summary of achievements from projects implemented during calendar year 2007. The Transmission and Distribution Utilities (TDUs), which are responsible for implementing the energy-efficiency program, exceeded their demand reduction goals by 25 percent and saved nearly 371,459 megawatt-hours of energy. The utilities' program expenditures of $72,627,173 million in 2007 will provide customers a total energy cost savings of $155 million over the ten-year project life of the efficiency measures.

Table 3. Summary—2007 Energy Efficiency Program

Expenditures	Customer Energy Cost Savings		Demand Savings (MW)		Annual Energy Savings (MWh)
	initial year - 2007	$58.38 million	goal	122
$ 72,627,173	ten-year project life	$155.40 million	achievement	152	371,459

Based on estimates from the ESL, the cumulative savings from the PUC's SB 5 and SB 7 energy efficiency programs through 2007 was 1,598,054 MWh/year. The ESL estimates that these electricity savings could represent up to 1,125 tons of NO_x emissions reductions. Links to the ESL and PUC reports are provided at the TERP web site, <www.terpgrants.org>.

Texas Building Energy Performance Standards

Health and Safety Code 388 was created by SB 5 to establish new state minimum construction standards for efficiency in buildings and to encourage higher levels of efficiency relative to this new baseline by recognizing locally enhanced codes, above code building performance, and exemplary efforts by publicly owned facilities.

Per Health and Safety Code 388.003, local governments have the responsibility to administer and enforce the standards found in the International Energy Conservation Code and the Energy Efficiency chapter of the International Residential Code. The ESL is responsible for determining the energy savings from energy code adoption and, when applicable, from more stringent or above code performance ratings.

A link to the ESL's latest report is provided at the TERP web site, <www.terpgrants.org>.

Energy-Efficiency Programs in Certain Political Subdivisions

Under Health and Safety Code 388.05, political subdivisions in nonattainment areas or affected counties were required to establish an energy consumption reduction goal of 5 percent per year, beginning January 2002. The State Energy Conservation Office's role is to evaluate the effectiveness of the local entities' efforts and report its findings to the TCEQ. Following passage of SB 5 in 2001, SECO worked with the U.S. Department of Energy and EPA to form the Texas Energy Partnership. The Partnership provides leadership and resources for affected jurisdictions in setting goals, determining strategies, and reporting energy savings data and progress. Examples of strategies include locally-mandated or voluntary "green" building energy codes that go beyond the state minimum, street lighting and traffic signal lighting improvements, and energy conservation retrofits for buildings, including lighting, windows, appliances, and cool roofs.

The number of jurisdictions adopting the 5 percent goal increased to 280 in 2006, up from 176 in 2002. The ESL estimates that the cumulative energy savings from these changes could be as high as 353,701 MWh/year, for an estimated cumulative annual NO_x emissions reduction of 270 tons.

Political subdivisions in the 41 TERP affected counties continued to develop energy efficiency plans, establish electricity consumption baselines, audit individual facilities, and achieve significant savings. The SECO's 2007 report highlights actions taken by political subdivisions. A link to the SECO and ELS reports are provided at the TERP web site, <www.terpgrants.org>.

Energy-Efficiency Programs and the Texas SIP

The programs administered by the PUC and SECO under the mandates of the SB 5 and SB 7 provide avenues for potentially creditable emission reductions to be claimed in the Texas State Implementation Plan (SIP). Accurate quantification of emission reductions from energy-efficiency and renewable energy is challenging due to the complex nature of the electrical grid system. At any given time, it is impossible to determine exactly where on the electrical grid electricity comes from for any certain electrical user. In order to factor in the degree of the complexity of the electrical grid and the uncertainties in the data and methods used, emission reduction estimates are modified using a discounting formula to arrive at the reduction estimates reported in the SIP. Where possible, the State has included energy-efficiency and renewable energy (EE/RE) credits in SIPs as explained below.

San Antonio (SAT) area: The San Antonio Early Action Compact claims 0.06 tpd of NO_x reductions for energy-efficiency measures as a result of SB 5 and SB 7. The Energy Systems Laboratory, the Local Metropolitan Partnership for Energy, and the Brooks Energy Sustainability Laboratory of the Texas Engineering Experiment Station developed the methodology used to calculate the reductions.

Dallas–Fort Worth area: The DFW 5 Percent Increment of Progress SIP included emission reduction credits of 0.72 tpd in 2007 for EE/RE programs in the DFW eight-hour ozone nonattainment area in place in 2003. The reductions were based on electricity and natural gas usage reductions expected to occur following implementation of the Texas Building Energy Performance Standards for single and multi-family residences in place as of May 1, 2001. These reductions also include less energy use because of energy-efficiency measures implemented by local governments and utilities as reported to the SECO and to the PUC.

Houston–Galveston–Brazoria area: As summarized in the December 2002 HGB SIP revision, a methodology was developed to estimate NO_x reductions resulting from EE/RE measures. This method has been improved with the support of the EPA and the Laboratory. The EPA's Emissions and Generation Resource Integrated Database (E-GRID – 2007) was used to spatially allocate the energy reductions in each of the eight HGB counties to electric generating units (EGU) located in those counties as well as in counties outside the HGB area. However, this methodology does not address the complication created from the NO_x Mass Emissions Cap and Trade program in the HGB area. The MECT program caps the NO_x emissions at point sources, including EGUs in the HGB ozone nonattainment area. If an EGU is located within the HGB ozone nonattainment area and demand on that EGU is reduced due to effective EE/RE programs, then the EGU may emit less NO_x than its cap allows. The EGU could then have excess NO_x allowances that could be sold or traded within the HGB area, which could adversely impact the net reduction of NO_x emissions in the region. House Bill 2129 (2005) required TCEQ to again consider SIP-creditable emission reductions for energy-efficiency programs for the HGB area. It was determined that if an EGU opted to lower its cap because EE/RE measures reduced energy demand, SIP credit could be provided. This is consistent with the EPA's 2004 guidance regarding SIP credits for emission reductions from electric-sector EE/RE programs.

IV. TCEQ Program Monitoring

To minimize the risk of fraud, the TCEQ has implemented a three-tiered Quality Assurance and Fraud Prevention and Detection Program was developed. The three levels are listed below.

- 1. Application phase — maintain a uniform process when doing application reviews, review and verify technologies, confirm emission reductions and cost effectiveness calculations, maintain an electronic database, and perform duplicate reviews.
- 2. Contract phase — for consistency, use template documents and obtain approval from TCEQ legal and central contracting offices on each contract, follow written grant management procedures, reviews for reimbursement requests are done by fiscal and program staff and program management, maintain an electronic database for contract and fiscal information, and perform on-site monitoring visits. An external auditor is contracted to physically verify grantees' expenditures by performing on-site reviews of records and confirm the location and use of equipment.
- 3. Tracking and reporting phase — require grantees to track usage and report to the TCEQ every six months, utilize internal and external auditors to perform desk and on-site reviews of activities, maintain contract provisions for return of funds if the usage does not meet contract commitments or is not tracked and reported. This phase, along with on-site audits by the TCEQ, verifies the project's actual NO_x emission reductions and usage of the funded vehicle/equipment in the affected areas during the activity life. Appendix 9 includes data from usage reports received by grantees.

V. Future Considerations for the TERP Programs

Issues that will be addressed by the TCEQ during the remainder of fiscal 2009 and into the 2010–2011 biennium are outlined below.

Emissions Reduction Incentive Grants Program

- The priority for use of the grant funds will be to continue to help meet the goals of the SIP, as those goals may be updated to address the reduced limits in the standards for ground-level ozone as recently established by the EPA.
- Cost per ton criteria will also be evaluated each year in relation to the types of projects being submitted by applicants. Adjustments may be considered as appropriate to further encourage applications from targeted emission sectors.

Rebate Grants Program and Small Business Grants Program

- The TCEQ will continue to allocate a portion of the funding for the Rebate Grants program.
- The Small Business Grants program will continue to be implemented as a part of the Rebate Grants program.

Third-Party Grants

- The TCEQ will continue the third-party grants program and, where appropriate, expand the grants to additional entities where the grants may benefit the TERP.

Texas Clean School Bus Program

- The TCEQ will continue to implement the Texas Clean School Bus Program to help school districts in Texas reduce exposure of school children to potentially harmful diesel exhaust.

New Technology Research and Development Program

- The TCEQ will continue to administer a contract with the TERC to implement the NTRD program. The TERC is responsible for establishing the program's priorities.

Legislative Issues

- The TCEQ has neither proposed nor taken a position on any legislative changes to the criteria for the TERP. TCEQ staff are available to provide any data and information that may be needed to assist the Legislature in evaluating proposals from stakeholders regarding the TERP.
