Greetings,

I have read that 75% of the settlement funds the state will receive will go to electric cars.

If you look at the generation of electricity, there are still lignite plants generating electricity. Of the 16 coal-fired plants, about 40% are burning lignite. Therefore, more pollution is generated from these plants than is saved by using electricity to power cars.

Please consider giving more grant money to develop natural gas driven vehicles.

Thank you,
