COMMENTS: Please do not allow the construction of a Sewer/wastewater treatment plant adjacent to the Fairfield neighborhood. I realize that treatment plants are necessary but I feel that the location proposed for this one would be better placed at a different location. Being located so close to our homes will negatively affect property values, not to mention the undesirable odor and noise that the housing closeby would have to endure. Please reconsider the placement of this treatment plant!!!!

COMMENTS: I do NOT support the proposed effort to build a WWTP next to my families backyard. One of the main attractions to the Fairfield community that attributed to our family moving here was the peacefulness and tranquility of the neighborhood. With the addition of a WWTP in our backyard that will be destroyers along with the property value of our home and neighbors. Couple that with the noise and smell from the facility each and every hour of the day, I seriously hope that you reconsider placement of the facility. At minimum, considerations should be made to look at moving it to the already existing MUD 531 treatment plant space in the Dry Creek Estates north of Scheil Road.

RE: Harris County Municipal Utility District No. 531, TPDES Permit No. WQ0016334001

Dear Sir/Madam,

This is my formal response to the recent "Decision of the Executive Director" that I received from the TCEQ. The letter noted that:

"This decision does not authorize construction or operation of any proposed facilities. This decision will be considered by the commissioners at a regularly scheduled public meeting before any action is taken on this application unless all requests for contested case hearing or reconsideration have been withdrawn before that meeting."

A. Request for a Contested Case Hearing

I, Madhu Sekharan, JD, MBA, with residential address 16614 Radiant Lilac Trail, and daytime phone number 832.920.1515 am requesting a contested hearing with this letter. I request a contested case hearing regarding Harris County Municipal Utility District No. 531, TPDES Permit No. WQ0016334001.

I am an "affected person". I have a "personal justiciable interest related to a legal right, duty, privilege, power, or economic interest affected by the application". I, as well as my other family members who reside in the Fairfield subdivision would be adversely affected by the proposed facility or activity "in a manner not common to the general public".

Violations and issues related to wastewater treatment plants in Texas include:

- Golden Acres Waste Water Treatment Plant has had violations.
- Almost half of Texas' major industrial facilities violated their wastewater permit
- Sewage pollution threatens the Hill Country's streams and aquifers.
- Certain Texas wastewater plants have contracts with fertilizer companies to take their biosolids.
- A wastewater treatment plant on a ranch in Comal County has raised environmental concerns.

I have health and safety concerns that are likely to be adversely affected by the "proposed facility or activities". My home is located within miles of the proposed wastewater treatment plant. I also now manage the estate of my late mother, which includes a home located very close to the proposed facility. That home is located at 20111 Chad Arbor Trail, Cypress, Texas 77433. That home is approximately one mile from the proposed facility. My family and I frequently spend time outdoors, walking and running along the trails of Fairfield. We have serious health and safety concerns given how that many wastewater treatment plants built in Texas experience issues of major concern to Texas residents who reside in close proximity to wastewater treatment plants.

See: <https://communityimpact.com/austin/cedar-park-leander/environment/2020/11/05/south-san-gabriel-river-residents-stuck-in-muck-as-wastewater-treatment-plants-effects-lead-to-lawsuit/>

I disputed issues of fact that are "relevant and material" to the commission's decision on this application during the public comment period. To facilitate the commission's determination of the number and scope of issues to be referred, please note that in Texas, studies show that home property values tend to decline when a wastewater treatment plant is built within 5 miles. Studies reveal that in Texas, home property values can decline when a wastewater treatment plant is built within 5 miles. "Studies have shown that homes within a half-mile of a wastewater treatment plant can see property values decrease by up to 12% compared to similar homes located further away". The main concerns for potential buyers are frequently related to odors and/or noise from the wastewater treatment plant.

In order to evaluate potential impact of a wastewater treatment plant on property values in and around this proposed facility, these steps should be taken immediately:

- 1. Conduct a Comparative Market Analysis. Affected persons and TCEQ regulators should compare property values in areas with and without nearby wastewater treatment plants. This can help you understand the potential impact on property values.
- 2. Determine the Predominant Wind Pattern. Whether a home is upwind or downwind of the plant affects "odor impact".
- 3. Receive Community Feedback. The TCEQ and the proposed plant operators have not been transparent at all with the community. Why wasn't a mass mailing conducted well before this facility was hurriedly proposed? I raised many issues regarding the purposeful lack of transparency previously. This has been rushed and furthermore, the best interests of the community are certainly not the focus with this proposed facility.
- 4. Review Historical Data. Homeowners should be provided with the opportunity to review historical data, study the history of accidents at other sites such as this one, and also be able to get legal advice to understand your options and any potential recourse.

B. Request for Reconsideration of the Executive Director's Decision

I, Madhu Sekharan, JD, MBA, with residential address 16614 Radiant Lilac Trail, and daytime phone number 832.920.1515 am also requesting a contested hearing with this letter. I formally request a contested case hearing regarding Harris County Municipal Utility District No. 531, TPDES Permit No. WQ0016334001.

I am requesting reconsideration of the executive director's decision for a myriad of reasons, including all the health impacts of faulty wastewater treatment plants in Texas. Faulty wastewater treatment plants in Texas can have several significant health impacts, including:

Waterborne Diseases: Contaminated water can transmit diseases such as cholera, cryptosporidiosis, and giardiasis. These diseases can cause severe digestive issues and other health problems. Faulty wastewater treatment can lead to the presence of pathogens such as bacteria, viruses, and parasites in water supplies. These pathogens can cause diseases like cholera, cryptosporidiosis, and giardiasis, which can lead to severe gastrointestinal issues, dehydration, and other health complications.

Exposure to Pathogens: Untreated or partially treated water can contain bacteria, viruses, parasites, molds, and fungi. These pathogens can lead to infections and illnesses, ranging from mild digestive discomfort to life-threatening conditions like hepatitis and dysentery.

Chemical Contaminants: Faulty treatment processes can fail to remove harmful chemicals and toxins from wastewater, which can then contaminate drinking water supplies and agricultural lands. This can lead to long-term health issues, including cancer and reproductive problems. Inadequate treatment can fail to remove harmful chemicals and toxins from wastewater. These contaminants can include heavy metals, pesticides, and industrial chemicals, which can pose long-term health risks such as cancer, reproductive issues, and neurological disorders.

Environmental Impact: Polluted water can harm local ecosystems, affecting wildlife and plant life. This environmental degradation can indirectly impact human health by disrupting food and water sources. Polluted water can harm local ecosystems, affecting wildlife and plant life. This environmental degradation can indirectly impact human health by disrupting food and water sources, leading to potential foodborne illnesses and reduced access to clean water.

Sanitary Sewer Overflows (SSOs): Aging or overtaxed systems can lead to SSOs, where untreated sewage is released into the environment. These overflows pose immediate health risks to nearby communities. Aging or overtaxed systems can lead to SSOs, where untreated sewage is released into the environment. These overflows pose immediate health risks to nearby communities, as they contain raw sewage that can carry harmful pathogens and chemicals.

In conclusion, continuous exposure to contaminated water results in many long-term health effects and chronic health issues, including: respiratory problems, skin infections, and weakened immune systems. Vulnerable populations, such as children and the elderly, are particularly at risk. Thank you.

Sincerely,

Madhu Sekharan

COMMENTS: I am a resident of Fairfield Neighborhood and am sending this message to protest the water treatment plant (sewage plant) planned to be built adjacent the neighborhood. This will DESTROY our home values and quality of life in the neighborhood. We have all types of 'wildlife', and pets in the area to include: horses, coyotes, varietal birds, honey bees, dogs, cats, etc. that could be potentially harmed as well. Please DO NOT allow this to be done. I say NO to the sewage plant and I hope you will consider the potential problems to occur as a result of building at this location. Thank you.
