Texas Water Commission
Public Notice

The Texas Water Commission is required under the Texas Solid Waste Disposal Act, Texas Civil Statutes, Article 4477-7, §13 (the Act), to identify and assess hazardous waste facilities or areas which may constitute an imminent and substantial endangerment to public health and safety or to the environment. The first registry of such sites was published in the Texas Register on January 16, 1987 (12 TexReg 205). The Act, §13(b)(2) and (c), require the commission to reassess the relative priority of the need for action at each site listed on the registry to remedy environmental and health problems resulting from the presence of hazardous waste at the site. The commission is also required to periodically update the registry to add new sites, to delete sites that have been cleaned up or delisted, or to modify any other information regarding the site.

The first update of the registry was published on January 22, 1988 (13 TexReg 427).

One site, International Creosoting, was proposed for inclusion on the registry on November 15, 1988 (13 TexReg 5791).

The following list constitutes the 1989 registry. The sites are listed in relative priority of the need for action at each site to remedy environmental and health problems resulting from the presence of hazardous wastes at the sites. Also included are preliminary recommendations for actions which may be pursued to achieve effective, efficient, and timely cleanup or other resolution of the problems identified for each facility. The recommendations do not constitute or describe the results of the remedial investigation/feasibility study for the sites. Cleanup at each site may be achieved by one or more of the recommended remedial alternatives, and is not limited to the alternatives listed.

1. Houston Scrap, Houston, Harris County. Recommended cleanup by off-site transport and disposal and/or treatment, on-site treatment, or off-site reclamation.
2. Rio Grande Refinery 1, Sour Lake, Hardin County. Site of former refinery. Recommended cleanup by biological treatment, excavation, off-site transport and disposal, or surface cap.
3. Rio Grande Refinery II, Sour Lake, Hardin County. Site of former storage facility for refined fuels. Recommended cleanup by biological treatment, excavation, off-site transport and disposal, or surface cap.
